

What is family violence?

Family violence is behaviour that controls or dominates a family member and makes them fear for their own safety or wellbeing or that of others.

Family violence can take many different forms and here are some examples.

financial counselling
australia

